

Dr Campbell has been lecturing to colleagues and patients since 1994. She speaks to lay audiences at pharmacies, health food stores and health fairs. She has posted an internet lecture series, www.bhrt1.com . She has presented CME material to health professionals on subjects ranging from colposcopy and cervical cryotherapy, to Vitamin D, metabolic syndrome and polycystic ovary syndrome. She lectures for both the Georgia and North Carolina Academies of Family Practice, ZRT labs, ICIM, The Age Management Medical Group, and is scheduled to speak to A4M in Brazil in Nov 2010. A true family physician, Dr Campbell emphasizes identification of modifiable risks and early “pre-diseases” such as “pre-hypertension” an “pre-diabetes”. Using functional medicine principles, nutrition and integrative care she can make objective, sustainable improvement in symptoms and laboratory data that reduce and reverse the burden of chronic disease for her patients. It is her mission to share her journey with like-minded colleagues who can affect their patients, one life at a time.
